As we open the doors of the future, the memories of our beloved Alma Mater shall ever linger with us, becoming brighter and dearer as the years go by.

Foreword

We have attempted to commemorate something of the priceless moments you have all known so well. To what extent we have succeeded, you, alone, are the judges.

If, however, in years to come, this book will aid in bringing back fond remembrances of the happy days spent at Orange High School, the staff will feel their fullest wish has been fulfilled.

Dedication

⁂

To Mrs. Edna Rouse, who, by her most gracious manner and unselfish devotion to her task, has not only been a sincere friend, but a continual source of inspiration and encouragement to all of us, we affectionately dedicate this—the 1948 edition of the ORANGE ORACLE.

Our Library

"May I go to the library?" How many times each day that question is asked! What's in this room that's so inviting? Can it be just books? Do we long to go there to look at the comics or Sports' Section of the daily "Times Dispatch"; to search for last Sunday's funnies; to read our favorite novels; to consult the World Book or Americana for information; to talk with Miss James; to purchase a pencil or a pack of paper; or even have a tete-a-tete with our best pals who are vacant that period?

We, however, aren't the only ones interested in this absorbing room. Just try to enter the library before school and you find you can hardly get in because the faculty is "holding full sway." During recesses, it becomes a regular "Teachers' Cafeteria."

Whatever the reason for all the magic enchantment of this special room, students will continue to love to find an excuse to go there.

The years may come; the years may go, but some of the pleasant experiences we, as Seniors, have shared in our library with books, with our pleasant librarian, or for any other purpose, will remain with our "letters tied in blue," among our happiest souvenirs.

The Class of '48 Rolls Back the Years

High school—it was a bewildered group who entered Room 2 in the fall of '44. Many of those freshmen are no longer with us; more came later from Gordonsville, Barboursville, and other schools to take their places.

In almost no time we were struggling sophs. Perhaps we acted a little more serious now—on the surface anyhow.

As busy juniors we sold stationery, Christmas cards, candy, hats, pins—anything to scrape up enough money for the Junior-Senior Prom. Well, it was worth the effort—the auditorium looked simply gorgeous! With those red and white crepe paper streamers and colored lights making a red glow, the evening was perfect!

Then came September '47! The Senior Home Room was ours!! Scenes of Shakespeare and the bulletin board with the words "Attention, Seniors!" greeted us each morning. What's that? Windows up again! We must have some fresh air! What an exciting year—the Gridiron Dance, the Peal each Monday—our real headache—class rings on Valentine Day, Senior Play, and the Junior-Senior Prom (this time we were the guests)!

And finally, "If exams are over, can graduation be far behind?"—The cherished diploma, our very own—farewells—and a 4-year chapter in our lives closes—one not easily forgotten.

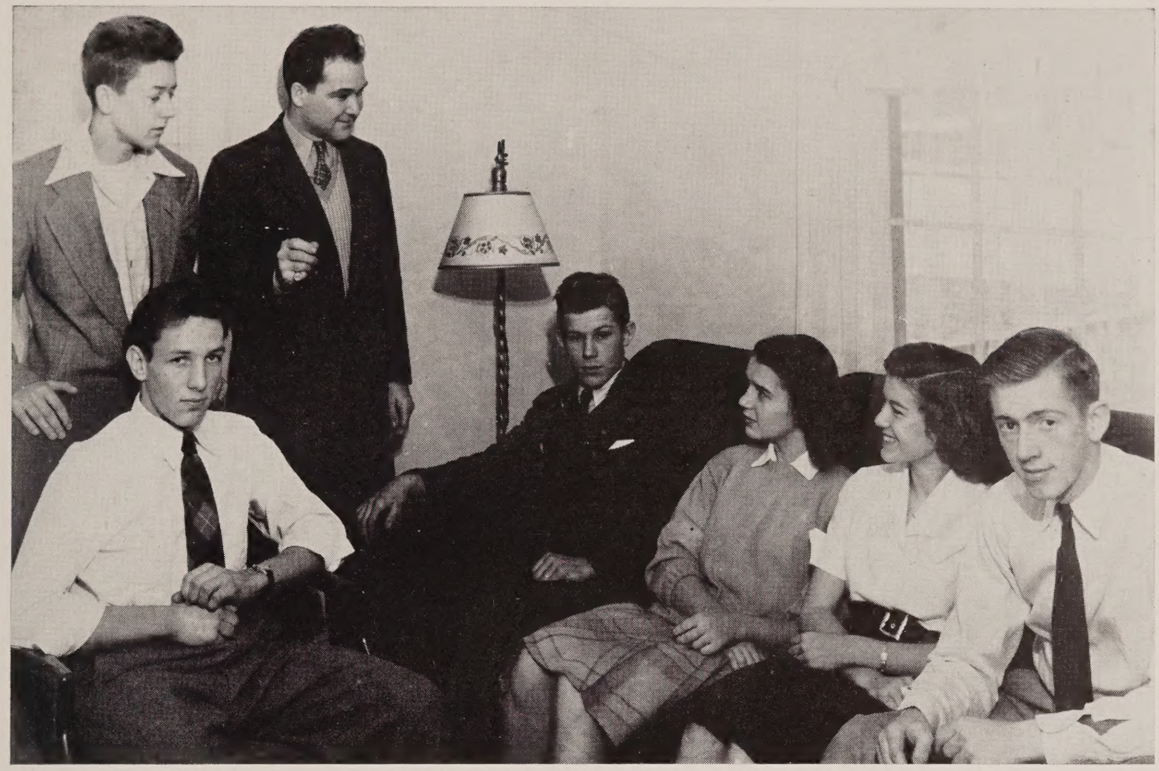
The purpose of the S. C. A. is to promote the welfare of the school by pupil participation. Through the various committees on Buildings and Grounds, Program, Recreation, and Finance, the students learn their needs, discuss and act upon them, and develop as real individuals, taking definite stands on their own problems.

Thus in the S. C. A., the students are trained to be more self-reliant and independent to think and act on their own impulses, of course being properly guided by their sponsors and other faculty members.



The Masquers Club

The real aim of the Masquers Club is to promote dramatic and forensic activities in the school.

A worthy accomplishment for the year was "The Gridiron Dance" in honor of the 1947-'48 Football Team. The Masquers also produced two One-Act plays, "How to Propose" and "The Weathervane Elopes," the latter being used in the One-Act Play Contest held in the spring.

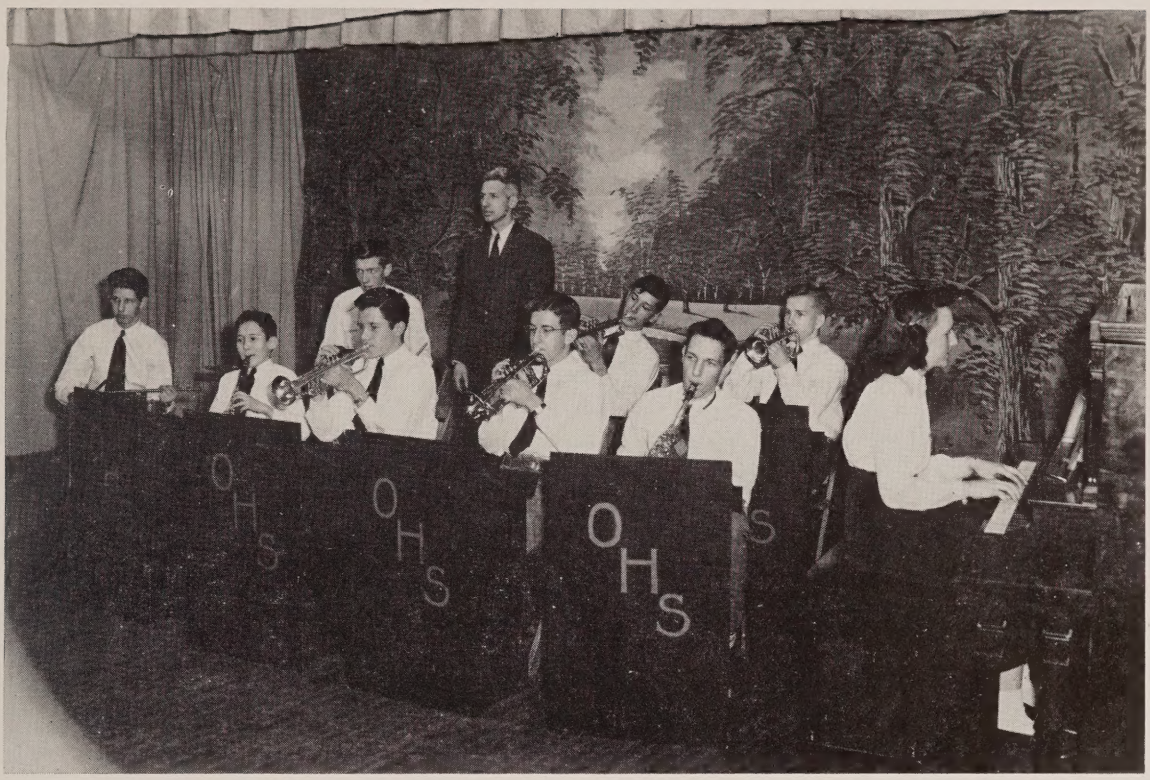
Absent from Picture: Joan Tebo, Marguerite Spitzer, Mark Andrews.

The Chorus, directed by Miss Kean, meets at scheduled periods each week for choral practice.

During the year they gave a "Mock Radio Program" as a public performance, and a Christmas Cantata, "Child Jesus," presented before both the student body and the P. T. A. A small group sang Christmas Carols at the December meeting of the D. A. R.

The Chorus often leads the singing or renders special numbers at Chapel. They also are in charge of the music for the Commencement Exercises.



Orange High School Band

First Row: Joe Fowler, Drums; Jimmie Cluff, Clarinet; Charles Cluff, Cornet; Bobby Dean Seal, Trumpet; Carl Butler, Alto Saxophone; Althea Higginbotham, Piano.

Second Row: Billy Lane, Drums; Mr. Curtis, Director; Sam Lloyd, Trumpet; John Dofflemoyer, Cornet.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Curtis, performed at a number of programs for the P. T. A., as well as for the Christmas Cantata. They also played often for Assembly singing.

The outstanding achievement of the year was the Concert in March.

Each week the Peal Staff, with the other members of the Senior Class, edit two or three columns of school news in the Orange Review. Editorials, news stories, feature writings, sports items, flashes, and juice, present a very vivid picture of each day in the high school from 9 to 3, with all the added extra-curricular activities.

Thus the Peal attempts to give the public some insight into school events and at the same time to offer an oppportunity for boys and girls to do creative writing.

The F. H. A. is an organization of those students enrolled in the classes of Home Economics. Under the leadership of Mrs. Clark, new member of the faculty this session, the girls have worked on projects in sewing and cooking—all of which will be helpful when they enter their most important career—home making.

In keeping with one of the major aims of this club, to promote recreation for young people, they sponsored a Halloween Party, a Valentine Canteen and other socials during the year.

The Civil Air Patrol is an organization to function in times of local emergency when the airplane can be used to an advantage. Its program is in two parts—one deals with the training of young people in subjects pertaining to aviation; the other, with adults in the use of the air plane and its related equipment in event of a local disaster.

This group already is well acquainted with radio-telephone procedure, Morse Code, aircraft structure, and aircraft control.

SPONSOR: Miss Armentrout.

Our school is a much safer place, thanks to the Safety Patrol. These boys of the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Grades, are directed by Miss Armentrout. They are on hand at the loading and unloading of buses. Some of the boys are stationed at definite posts before and after school to direct traffic.

State Trooper Thompson has worked closely with the group and has been instrumental in getting safety zones and other markings placed at favorable points around the school. He has also made talks to the student body, thus attempting to create a greater desire on the part of all of us to make school safe.

Still asking why!

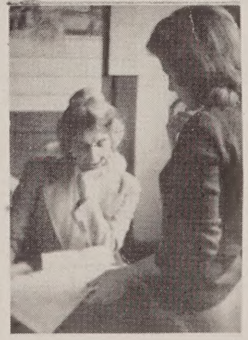
Working off demerits??

Ben's idea of an Iambus!

"I havn't the vaguest idea"

Hold that pose

No Snowballing!!



Saints preserve us!

Cheer Leaders

First Row: Thelma Jones, Jo Ann Matthews, Charlene Carpenter, Peggy Eddins, Willene Athearn.

Second Row: Hazel McDaniel, Linda Dofflemoyer, Myrtle Jones, Jean Wheeler, Janie Utz, Emma Herndon, Catherine Anderson.

FAVORITE YELLS!

Victory, Victory,
Hear our cry,
V - I - C - T - O - R - Y,
Are we in it?
Well, I guess!
Orange, Orange,
Yes, yes, yes!

He's a peach;
He's a dream;
He's the coach
Of our team!
Who?
Goforth! Goforth! Goforth!

Little red rooster,
Sitting on the fence!
He crowed for Orange,
'Cause he had good sense.
You can stand 'em on the head;
You can stand 'em on the feet,
Orange High School—Can't be beat!
